Review of July minutes, no mention made

Club business:

- BoD and Kurt discussed options for organization of next year's classes. Wednesday s would offer 36 to 40 weeks of mainstream +7 instruction. Only when enough students are ready to move forward would the club offer a Plus class.
- There would not be an Advanced class this year.
- The class fee schedule was discussed. It was suggested to class cost between $150 to $180 and would include membership for new beginning students and about 10 weeks of advanced concepts at the end of class. (per Ed's note of 9/8/16 class cost was set at $180)
- Recruitment for this year's intro on 9/7/16 was discussed.
  - Eric said he might have Apple employee connections to help advertise
  - Eric investigated a Meet-up group. It involves a monthly charge: $8/month regular or $15 premium
  - Lynn asked if member could be asked to use their Meet-up connections to get notice out
- An attempt to discuss next year's caller fees was attempted. Though it proved to be a complicated matter since there will be callers hosting first hour review sessions before Rich's shortened class schedule. It was decided to try and discuss this matter via e-mail in the coming days.

8/30/16 at a Wednesday club night, an impromptu BoD meeting was held in the back kitchen area of St Andrew's since all BoD members were present. It was decided that Caller fees would be based on $30/hour for all callers ($15/half hour) Lynn and Eric would reach out to Allan Hurst and James T. to see if they had interest in alternately calling the hour long review session this coming year. Club dues could be raised to $50 (changed to $45) and Wednesday night door would rise to $7(per Ed's note of 9/8/16 door will be $6)
